2 - انقر على create an account

The screenshot shows the Gmail sign-up page. At the top right, there are links for "For Work" and "Sign in", and a blue button labeled "Create an account" which is circled in red. The main content area features the Gmail logo on the left, the heading "Write emails faster", and a sub-heading "Get suggestions as you type. Simply hit tab to accept and you're done." Below this is another blue "Create an account" button. On the right side, a simulated email interface is shown with a header "Lunch Saturday", a sender "Tim Greer", and a subject "Lunch Saturday". The body of the email contains the text "Free for lunch on Saturday?" followed by a "tab" button. Navigation arrows are visible on the left and right sides of the email preview.

Combining data

We also combine this data among our services and across your devices for these purposes. For example, depending on your account settings, we show you ads based on information about your interests, which we can derive from your use of Search and YouTube, and we use data from trillions of search queries to build spell-correction models that we use across all of our services.

You're in control

Depending on your account settings, some of this data may be associated with your Google Account and we treat this data as personal information. You can control how we collect and use this data now by clicking "More Options" below. You can always adjust your controls later or withdraw your consent for the future by visiting My Account (myaccount.google.com).
